Dear new Students, dear JKU Students,

Welcome to Johannes Kepler University Linz! The start of your studies marks not only the beginning of a new chapter in your lives, but also an exciting time full of opportunities, encounters, and challenges. We as ÖH JKU want to accompany and support you on this journey.

Starting university can sometimes seem overwhelming: new rooms, new people, new structures. That's exactly why this guide exists. It is intended to offer you initial orientation—from important contact points and tips on organizing your everyday student life to information about leisure and cultural activities on campus and in Linz.

ÖH JKU is also your legal representative. Our goal is to assist you with all questions related to your studies—whether it's study law, questions about the curriculum, or if you simply don't know what to do next. In addition, we represent your interests in university politics and actively shape campus life—including with great activities between lectures.

We hope that you will quickly feel at home and welcome at our university, make many new friends, and, above all, remain curious to fill your studies with your own ideas. Take advantage of the opportunities coming your way and have the courage to break new ground.

We wish you a successful start and an exciting, enriching time at university!

Your ÖH JKU Chair Team
Markus, Verena, and Melanie

1. A Short Summary: The ÖH JKU

1.1. The ÖH JKU is your Companion for your Studies

At the beginning of your studies you might be faced with an overload of information with new rules, expressions and structures. This often means that what exactly ÖH JKU actually contributes to your studies gets lost in the mix: we help shape your student experience, represent you in dealings with professors and the JKU, advise you on all academic matters, offer legal and tax advice, support you with various forms of funding, organise the best parties, ... and much more (see ► Section 2)!

1.2. The Austrian National Union of Students

As a student, you are part of the Österreichische Hochschüler_innenschaft (ÖH), the legal representation of all students in Austria. However, when people refer to “the ÖH”, they are usually referring to the active representatives and the bodies that make up the ÖH. To give you a better idea of what this entails, here is a brief overview of the ÖH's structure.

1.2.1. STUDY REPRESENTATIONS

The ÖH supports students on three levels. Each field of study is assigned a Study Representation (StV), which is on hand to offer advice and practical support with degree-specific issues. At JKU, the individual StVs are assigned to a Faculty Representation (FakV) (see ► Section 4.1). These represent all students in the faculty and coordinate between the individual StVs.

1.2.2. UNIVERSITY REPRESENTATION – ÖH JKU

At university-wide level, you are represented by the University Representation (UV)—the Hochschüler_innen at JKU Linz (abbr. ÖH JKU). The executive body of the UV consists of the chair team and the 17 departments. These departments are specialised units responsible for their own areas and support the chair team in its work. Under ➤ Section 2, you can find out all about what we offer and how we actively help shape your studies. Details on the bodies of the ÖH JKU can be found under ➤ Section 4.

1.2.3. FEDERAL REPRESENTATION

Last but not least, there is the Federal Representation (BV). It is similar in structure and function to the UV, with the difference that it represents all higher education students in Austria.

The BV also actively supports you in your studies: funding programmes such as the ÖH Social Fund (oeh.ac.at/foerdertoepfe), advice on various topics (oeh.ac.at/beratung), the ÖH accident and liability insurance (www.oeh.ac.at/versicherung) and much more.

1.2.4. YOU DECIDE THE ÖH – ÖH ELECTION

There are elected representatives at all levels of the ÖH. They are elected every two years in the ÖH election. The representatives of your StV are elected by name, whereas the UV and BV are list-based elections—here you must choose a political faction. In the last election in 2025, the BV consisted of 55 seats and the UV of 17. These elected representatives then decide who forms the chair team and who heads the departments. The next election is due to take place in 2027; you can find full details of the process at ➤ Section 5.

1.3. ÖH JKU Contact Points

Now that you have a rough idea of what ÖH JKU is and how it's structured, the only question that remains is: how do you get in contact with us? Depending on your concern, there are various points of contact:

4. The bodies of the ÖH JKU

As briefly explained above (see ► Section 1.2), the ÖH is structured into three levels: the University Representation, the Faculty Representations, and the StVs.

The Study Representations (StVs) are your first point of contact and are responsible for issues and concerns that specifically relate to your study programme. Several StVs are then grouped together to form a Faculty Representation (FakV). This body coordinates cross-StV projects and is there to assist you with general concerns within your faculty. Across the university, the ÖH supports you with its departments and services and represents the interests of all JKU students. In this chapter, you'll find an overview of all FakVs, StVs, departments and their respective contact details.

4.1. Faculty and Programme Representatives

In the following section, you will find a list of all Faculty Representations and their associated Study Representations. In total, the ÖH consists of 3 FakVs and 24 StVs. Each StV represents one or more study programmes. All the associated study programmes are also listed below, so you should always be able to find the right contact person!

To give you an overview of the individual faculties and their representative bodies, the individual Faculty Representations also introduce themselves briefly!

4.1.1. FAKV LAW

The team of the FakV Law (ReWi)

Since its early days, the Faculty has stood for progress, openness and a modern approach to the study of law. Today, it is an established centre for education and research with a clear focus on the future. The focus is on current societal challenges, interdisciplinary perspectives and practice-oriented teaching that prepares students for the dynamic demands of the legal world.

The coming years will bring change—digital, social and global. We are actively helping to shape this change. Fifty years is a milestone—and a mandate for the future:

Established in 1969, the Faculty of Engineering and Natural Sciences (TNF) has grown to become the largest faculty at JKU. The TNF supports over 7 000 students in 38 different degree programs. In addition, the teacher education programs are also assigned to the TN faculty representation. The individual study representatives of the TNF represent and advise you in your studies. We work closely together and maintain a good exchange between the study programs. Feel free to come to one of our consultation cafés, where we will help you with any problems you may have. You can find the office hours and a detailed guide to your studies on the website of your student representative. In addition, we organize many great events throughout the semester. left to right: Marco Rieger, Jussuf Hassan, Tobias Doppelbauer, Simon Brandstätter, Alina Galler

Since its founding in 2014, the young Faculty of Medicine has focused on interdisciplinary, practice-oriented education and has quickly established itself as an innovative place of learning. The modern MED Campus offers students state-of-the-art teaching closely linked to digital innovation. An outstanding example of this is the JKU medSPACE: a multifunctional room that serves as a lecture hall, laboratory, forum, and stage. Anatomical structures can be explored here in three dimensions and taught in a completely new way – a milestone in teaching and a model for the use of digital technologies in medicine.

4.2. Departments of the ÖH JKU

Departments are divisions within ÖH JKU that oversee and manage various areas. Each department is lead by a department head who is responsible for assigning tasks and coordinating within the department. In addition, each department usually has several persons in charge who support the department heads.

ÖH JKU has 17 departments—some of which you will have more contact with than others. In this section, we will briefly introduce you to the departments that are most relevant to you, including contact infos! You can find all departments at oeh.jku.at/departments.

4.2.1. DEPARTMENT FOR SOCIAL POLICY

The ÖH JKU Department for Social Policy is your first point of contact for all questions relating to financial aid, insurance, mobility, housing, barrier-free studying, and studying with children. In addition to providing advice on government support, we can also help you in difficult situations with the ÖH JKU Social Fund, the ÖH JKU Tuition Fee Social Fund, and the ÖH JKU Mental Health Fund. You can find the guidelines and requirements for the funds on our website. Of course, our staff are also available to assist you by email or in person during consultation hours.

4.2.2. DEPARTMENT FOR WOMEN, GENDER AND EQUAL OPPORTUNITIES

The Department for Women, Gender, and Equal Opportunities is your point of contact for equality and diversity at the university. They are committed to highlighting and consistently dismantling discriminatory structures at the university, as well as promoting fair coexistence in general. Through lectures, workshops, and other activities, we raise awareness of issues such as feminism, sexism, and racism, and create spaces for exchange, solidarity, and empowerment. Our goal is a university where respect, equal opportunities, and diversity are a matter of course for all students.

4.2.3. DEPARTMENT FOR EDUCATION AND SOCIAL POLICY

We offer comprehensive legal advice on matters relating to the Universities Act. We assist students with queries on topics such as the number of attempts at exams, study regulations and other legal issues in higher education. So if you have any questions, problems or uncertainties, please get in touch with us.

Furthermore, the Department offers students the opportunity to engage critically with issues relating to education and social policy. To this end, we organise lectures so that we can discuss current topics together, or go on excursions as a group.

4.2.4. DEPARTMENT FOR STUDENT COUNSELING

The ÖH's Department for Student Counseling has two main responsibilities:

GUIDANCE FOR SCHOOL LEAVERS

As part of our guidance for school leavers, we answer students' questions about university studies. To do this, we visit schools in person to discuss all the options available after finishing school and answer any questions they may have.

STUDY COUNSELING

Our study counseling service is here to help students. We answer questions such as: Am I insured through the ÖH? Can I get psychological support from the ÖH? Can I sit an exam even with a broken hand? These are all important questions, and we have the answers! For programme-specific questions, you can contact your programme representatives. Not sure how to get in touch with them? Then get in touch with us. We also offer a plagiarism check for your final theses.

4.2.5. DEPARTMENT FOR CLIMATE PROTECTION AND SUSTAINABILITY

The Department for Climate Protection and Sustainability is dedicated to promoting sustainable campus life and a sustainable world. We can already see the effects all over the world, including in Austria—the decline in biodiversity, extreme weather events such as floods and prolonged periods of drought, rising sea levels, environmental pollution, and much more. Nevertheless, we believe that each and every one of us can continue to play a part in tackling the climate crisis. Because we have to. We are your point of contact for climate and environmental protection matters—together, we want to discuss the issues, perspectives and proposed solutions.

5. The ÖH Election

Every two years, you decide who's in charge at the ÖH—on all three levels. To help you make the most of your vote, we would like to give you a bit more information and details about the ÖH election here.

5.1. What can you vote for, and how?

In principle, you can vote for your Study Representation (StV), the University Representation (UV) and the Federal Representation (BV). UV and BV are held as list elections, which means you must choose a political group—known as a parliamentary groups. You have one vote to cast in both cases: one for ÖH JKU and one for the ÖH Federal Representation.

The StV election, on the other hand, is a person-based election or a by-name election. You therefore choose 3 or 5 people whom you would like to see on your StV. These people may also belong to a parliamentary group, though this is not indicated on the ballot paper. If you have any preferences here, it is best to find out in advance which person belongs to which parliamentary group.

PLEASE NOTE!

Unlike most other person-based elections in Austria, you can tick more than one person on the StV ballot paper! This is because an StV consists of 3 or 5 seats, depending on the size of the relevant degree programmes.

5.1.1. SPECIAL CONSIDERATIONS FOR TEACHER EDUCATION STUDENTS

If you are studying to become a teacher, you are enrolled across the entire “Cluster Mitte” – meaning at several universities, not just JKU. This also affects your voting rights! You may vote for your Study Representation and University Representation (UV) or Higher Education Institution Representation (HV) at up to two universities. Of course, you may only vote for the Federal Representation once.

5.2. What are “parliamentary groups”?

If you compare the ÖH to the Austrian state, parliamentary groups are the political parties. Each parliamentary group represents its own political interests and is itself made up of students. There are parliamentary groups that are active at both university and federal level, and others that operate exclusively at the JKU, for example.

Depending on the size and level of activity of the parliamentary group, you will probably already have come across some of the parliamentary groups represented at JKU, either at their leaflet-handing-out events, at their “Mensafeste”, or at one of their stands.

If you want to be well-informed for the ÖH election, it’s worth taking the time now to familiarise yourself with the political stances of the parliamentary groups and consider which one best represents your interests.

5.3. Who is currently in the UV?

The 2025 ÖH election resulted in the following distribution of the 17 seats of the ÖH JKU:

 AG-Uniteich 7 Seats (± 0)

 VSSStÖ Linz 6 Seats (+3)

 No Ma’am 2 Seats (± 0)

 GRAS Linz 1 Seat (± 0)

 JUNOS JKU Linz 1 Seat (-1)

This distribution of seats resulted in a coalition between GRAS Linz and VSSStÖ Linz, who currently form the chair team and executive branch of ÖH JKU.

5.4. Who can vote, when, and where?

In principle, every student has the right to vote, regardless of their nationality. The election is expected to take place in mid-May 2027, although no exact dates have been announced yet. You can vote on JKU main campus, at the MED Campus and—depending on your study programme—in some cases also at various satellite campuses (in 2025, for example, Artificial Intelligence students were also able to cast their votes in Vienna and Villach). The ÖH election generally lasts three days; at satellite campuses, voting time is more limited.

ATTENTION!

The ÖH fee must have been paid 7 weeks before the election date for you to be eligible to vote. Depending on exactly when in May the election takes place, this deadline may fall before the end of the general fee payment period! So pay your ÖH fee as soon as possible to ensure you can take part in the vote!

5.5. Postal voting

In addition to the option of voting in person, you can also vote for the University Representation and the Federal Representation by post. However, your Study Representation can only be elected in person. You can apply for your postal vote online; details will be communicated via all our channels in good time before the election.

6. All Information on studying at JKU

6.1. Libraries & Study Zones

The JKU has a main library (marked as “Library” on the campus map on the last page), subject area libraries, and subject-specific libraries. With your JKU Card, you can borrow books, journals, etc. from all libraries. At liss.jku.at, you also have round-the-clock access to electronic media and can find out whether any of the libraries have the item you are looking for.

6.1.1. STUDY ZONES

Almost every building at JKU has areas for students with seating and tables. The largest study area is, of course, the Learning Center above the main library. All other study areas can be found at www.jku.at/en/campus/services/study-zones. For group work, we particularly recommend the reservable glass boxes in the Learning Center and the group rooms in the main library—more information can be found at www.jku.at/en/library/service/infrastructure/study-spaces.

6.1.2. 24/7 STUDY ZONE

Additionally, there is a study area in the library that is open 24 hours a day, including weekends. However, to access the 24-hour study area, you must first have your JKU Card activated at the library: www.jku.at/en/library/service/infrastructure/24-7-study-zone.

6.2. Finding Food on Campus

You will find a wide range of meal options on the main campus of JKU. From cafeterias to cafés to the LUI (see > Section 2.2), you are often spoiled for choice.

6.2.1. JKU MENSA, CH@T & SCIENCE CAFÉ

At the JKU Mensa, you can enjoy freshly cooked meals every day, as well as an ever-expanding range of vegetarian and vegan options. During the semester, there are two set menus, two dishes of the day, two pasta dishes or pizza options, as well as a salad bar and a buffet. The set menus, daily specials, pasta dishes and pizzas are each available in both vegan and meat-based/vegetarian versions.

The Ch@t in the Kepler Building and the Science Café in the Science Park also offer savoury snacks, cakes and sweet treats every day, along with coffee and tea. There's no shortage of cool refreshments such as ice cream or cold drinks either.

6.2.2. ÖH MENSABONUS

If you meet any of the criteria listed at oeh.jku.at/mensabonus, you can apply for the ÖH Mensabonus. With this, you'll get the set meals or vegetable platters in the JKU canteen for €2.00 less. You can apply for the Mensabonus via myJKU (my.jku.at/settings/studies). The next time you visit a service point, an "M" will be printed on your JKU Card next to the expiration date.

PLEASE NOTE!

In Austria, the Mensabonus will eventually be replaced by direct funding from the ministry. This will make meals in the canteen significantly cheaper for students (by up to 55%). In return, the Mensabonus will be discontinued. Implementation at JKU is scheduled to take place as early as November 2026. Keep an eye on our channels for updates.

6.2.3. TEICHWERK & SU&DU

The Teichwerk floats, hard to miss, on the JKU Uni pond. It offers creative, healthy, and sustainable cuisine, as well as delicious drinks in the atmosphere of the JKU campus. You can also celebrate parties there, rent it for events, or simply relax from university life.

The su&du is a new café bistro right next to the main library. It opened its doors in September 2025 and aims to be a culinary meeting place for everyone. It's a place to think and tinker, to unwind, and, of course, to enjoy coffee, snacks, lunch menus, or cakes.

6.2.4. THE UNI SPAR

Whether you fancy trying your hand at cooking or want to pick up a little snack for an Lecture, the Uni Spar has everything you're looking for. It's open Monday to Friday from 7:15 AM, until 8:00 PM from Monday to Thursday, and until 6:00 PM on Fridays.

6.3. Places to eat on the MED Campus

There are plenty of places to grab a bite to eat on the medical campus too.

6.3.1. HONEDER NATURBACKSTUBE

The Honeder Naturbackstube is open on weekdays from 6:00 AM–6:00 PM, serving fresh baked goods. Besides its range of classic breads, the bakery also offers a variety of sandwiches and a wide selection of pastries and sweet treats. With the ÖH JKU top-up bonus, you can get an extra 5 % when you top up your Honeder Card!

6.3.2. CAFÉ ANTONIA

In the cosy atmosphere of Café Antonia, you can enjoy everything from coffee to breakfast, lunch and afternoon cakes from 8:00 AM–7:00 PM on weekdays. The café also has a wide range of vegetarian and vegan options for you to enjoy. If you're interested in having lunch, you're asked to book in advance by telephone.

6.3.3. MED UNI SPAR

There's also a Spar on the MED Campus where you can become a chef yourself! But of course, there are also small snacks and ready-made meals. The MED Uni Spar is open for you on weekdays from 6:30 AM–6:30 PM!

6.3.4. KEPLER UNIVERSITY HOSPITAL CANTEEN

Students can also have lunch at the Kepler Universitätsklinikum (KUK) staff canteen on weekdays from 12:30 PM. The canteen offers a varied selection of dishes, including vegetarian and vegan options.

6.4. Infrastructure & Applications

As a student, JKU provides you with a wide range of infrastructure and applications. Here you will find an overview of the most important offers and services.

6.4.1. JKU ACCOUNT

With your enrollment, JKU provides you with a JKU account. This account gives you an email address, Wi-Fi access, KUSSS & myJKU access, etc. This means that you can log in to all JKU services with your JKU account. The username is k<matriculation number>, e.g., k01234567. You can set or change your password at account.jku.at. For more information, please visit help.jku.at/im/en/jku-account.

6.4.2. WIFI AND EDUROAM

There are two Wi-Fi networks on campus: JKU and eduroam. Once you have connected to the JKU network, log in with your JKU account. The Wi-Fi is limited to one device at a time and is unencrypted. Education Roaming (eduroam), on the other hand, is encrypted and offers you an Internet connection for multiple devices simultaneously at all participating universities worldwide—with over 50 Universities in Austria alone. At help.jku.at/im/en/netwerkzugang/campus-wireless-lan, you will find instructions for setting up eduroam depending on your operating system. You will need your eduroam password, which must first be set at account.jku.at. Once your device is set up, you can use eduroam worldwide without further registration.

6.4.3. JKU CARD & SERVICE POINTS

The JKU Card is your personal JKU student ID card and gives you access to a whole range of functions. You will often need your JKU Card to identify yourself during exams, so you should always have it with you.

SERVICE POINTS

You must “stamp” / activate your JKU Card at least once per semester. It is best to do this at the beginning of the new semester. After stamping, your student ID card is active again and valid until the date printed on it. You can find a service point in the Management Center, in the Physics Building, in the Library, in the Keplergebäude Building in front of HS 1, and in Science Park 3. There is also a service point at Med Campus I, so you don’t necessarily have to be on the main campus.

6.4.4. KUSSS, MYJKU, MOODLE, MUSSS

You can manage your studies at Kepler University Study Support System (KUSSS). There you can register for LVAs and exams, view your grades, and activate your ÖH Mensabonus. You can find it at kuss.jku.at.

MYJKU

myJKU is the modern alternative to KUSSS and replaces it in many aspects. You can find your schedule, grades, messages from professors, and much more at my.jku.at! myJKU also offers a semester planner that allows you to plan your next semester clearly. You can find the semester planner at semesterplaner.jku.at.

MOODLE

You may already be familiar with it from school: Moodle is an open source e-learning platform used by almost all LVAs. Almost every LVA has its own Moodle course where you can find important information such as lecture slides, exercises, or forums. The Moodle course of an LVA is often the first source of information if you have any problems or questions about an LVA. So don't forget to check moodle.jku.at periodically!

MUSSS

The Multimedia Studies Services at the Faculty of Social Sciences, Economics & Business (MuSSS) offers you the opportunity to attend selected LVA courses via multimedia. It is specifically aimed at students who work part-time as well as students with children or other care responsibilities.

MuSSS LVAs replace regular LVAs with courses that can be completed largely through distance learning. If attendance is still required, courses will take place in blocks at the beginning or end of the day or on weekends.

For more information about MuSSS, including requirements, offerings, and some of the costs involved, visit jku.at/musss!

6.4.5. MICROSOFT OFFICE 365

Thanks to an initiative by ÖH JKU, JKU provides you with "Office 365 ProPlus" free of charge. This currently includes Word, PowerPoint, Excel, OneNote, and Outlook. The license allows you to install the applications on up to 5 PCs, 5 tablets, and 5 smartphones and comes with free updates. It expires only after you complete your studies. For more information and installation instructions, please visit oeh.jku.at/office365.

7. Your Rights & Duties

The Department for Educational and Social Policy (BiGesPol) offers comprehensive legal advice on matters relating to study law. Here we've put together a brief summary of what you definitely need to know!

7.1. Studies Introduction and Orientation Phase

The Studies Introduction and Orientation Phase (StEOP) is designed—as the name suggests—to give you an overview of whether your chosen degree programme is right for you. It includes mandatory courses that Bachelor and Diplom students must complete at the start of their studies before they can undertake other courses. Until you have completed the StEOP, you can only receive a grade for selected courses from the first few semesters. You can find details of your StEOP in your study programme's curriculum (studienhandbuch.jku.at) and in KUSSS.

7.2. Minimum number of credits, study duration & fees

There is no time limit on completing your degree or the StEOP—in theory, you could study for the rest of your life. However, there are two restrictions:

Minimum number of credits Students on Bachelor's and Diplom programmes must earn at least 16 ECTS credits within the first four semesters of their studies.

Tuition fees EU and EEA citizens are exempt from tuition fees during the standard duration of study; after that, they generally pay tuition fees. The standard duration of study is defined as the minimum duration of study (6 semesters for a Bachelor's degree) plus 2 grace semesters. For a Bachelor's degree, you'll therefore pay starting in the 9th semester. You must always pay the ÖH membership fee, regardless of this.

7.3. Leave of absence

If you are unable to study for an extended period due to illness, pregnancy, care responsibilities, disabilities, community service or other extraordinary circumstances, you can apply for a leave of absence. Semesters on leave of absence do not count towards the time limits, but you will continue to pay your ÖH membership fee and remain insured. You cannot complete any courses whilst on leave of absence. Details: jku.at/leave-of-absence.

7.4. Assessment criteria & mandatory attendance

The course catalogue specifies for each course how your grade is determined; your lecturers will often also explain the details during the first class. For lectures—apart from the exam—attendance is never mandatory; your grade is based solely on your exam. For other types of course, your lecturers will determine on a case-by-case basis how many sessions you are allowed to miss.

EXAM DATES

Lectures usually conclude with an exam. Three exam dates must be offered each semester, making a total of six per year. You are free to choose which dates you wish to sit: legally speaking, there is no such thing as a “make-up exam”. You must usually register for and deregister from your exams!

7.5. Retaking exams & attempts

You have 5 attempts for each course at JKU, except:

- › StEOP: Until you have completed the StEOP, you only have 4 attempts.
- › Joint degree programmes with other universities (e.g. teacher's education): Usually only 4 attempts.
- › Last outstanding exam in your degree programme: One additional attempt.

For a lecture, each exam session you attend generally counts as an attempt; for other course types, your performance over the whole semester counts as one major exam—you receive one grade in KUSSS per attempt. So if lecturers offer tests where “the better of two attempts counts”, this formally counts as just one attempt.

Even a passing grade can be retaken if you hope to achieve a better result: the retake may be undertaken once and only within one year. Please note: the old grade will be invalidated in the process.

7.6. Access to examination records

Lecturers are obliged to award you a grade no later than four weeks after your final assessment (such as an exam or the last exercise session). You may request access to the assessment records within six months. You may photograph or otherwise reproduce open-ended questions and your answers; multiple-choice questions are excluded from this.

No appeal is permitted against an examination mark; as a rule, you cannot “sue for a better mark”. However, in exceptional circumstances, you may have a failing grade overturned if you submit a request to that effect within four weeks of the mark being awarded—please contact us if this applies to you! Nevertheless, it is definitely worth exercising your right to inspect the records and discussing any ambiguities with the lecturers.

7.7. Credit transfer and examination recognition

If you have already gained experience in your field of study, you may, under certain conditions, have this recognised as credit towards course modules, meaning you will no longer need to complete those modules. This applies in particular to students who have come from a vocational college (e.g. HAK or HTL), have already studied in a similar field, or are working in the field of their degree. You can find details on credit recognition at jku.at/credit-transfer.

Glossary

There are many new terms, abbreviations, and names you'll encounter during your studies. We've put together a list of the most common ones for you here. On the last few pages, you'll also find a campus map, complete with a legend!

Here you will find an overview of all buildings at JKU, as well as lecture halls and seminar rooms located in each building. Room names consist of two parts: the building abbreviation and a room number. The first digit of the room number indicates the floor—with the exception of 99, which stands for the basement. Lecture halls always begin with “HS”, regardless of the building. If you don’t know where a room is located, it’s best to use the ÖH JKU room search at oeh.jku.at/rooms/!
